

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

Q17 Weekend wildlife killing contests occur in Nevada, usually involving coyotes but other species may be involved. Contestants are awarded prizes and money for killing the greatest number of animals, or the largest, the smallest, or the most females, etc. These contests are not part of a wildlife management plan nor sponsored or supported by the Nevada Department of Wildlife. Do you support or oppose these wildlife killing contests?

Support 19%
Oppose 66%
Not sure 16%

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

